The gameplay is inspired by the game of chess, the gameplay is turn based and runs on a strictly linear timeline. For every 10 turns the Star Legation is under construction. All units are played through the campaign once, even if you are a new player, and then you can play through the campaign multiple times. You will need to work towards your goal, your main objective in the campaign. In addition to the single player campaign there is also a multiplayer mode where you can play against a friend or an AI opponent. A multiplayer campaign would have a faster pace, and you can pick up where you left off with your AI opponent. Like chess, you will need to think strategically with every turn, you will need to watch and plan, turn by turn, your next move. Warning: This game is designed for casual gamers, but does have an addictive style. Curse of the Wailing Wall is a first-person exploration/adventure game. You play as a dragon, and you embark on an epic quest to restore the peace and harmony of your homeland. Features: Steam page link: www.lugbox.com Current development status: Civilization 6 I'm composing a trailer for it. GDC My presentation for GDC has been accepted and is in the final stages of preparation. Budget and market research My consulting company has a new project I'm currently working on which will bring me into contact with potential clients. It's actually a great game, if you can get past the awful camera. I'd highly recommend it. I love the idea of being able to explore a beautifully-designed world with the freedom to fight, fly, and go anywhere and do anything. I'm extremely impressed that you've been able to create something so visually stunning with what you currently have. But you're not there yet, and you're going to need to get better at this. You should be fine with 3D graphics and some models. Your main issue right now is high poly count and visibility of the skybox. You're also going to need to do some more work on your lighting, because it's a little dim, and it needs to be better. You already have dynamic shadows, so you should use those to add some highlights, or have them cast shadows from a point light source. Most importantly, you want to add some sunlight, and you don't currently have any (or an extremely low amount). A bright sunny day or night will make the clouds look incredibly nice. I suggest you take some time and get really good at shadowing and lighting. That will take you far, because that's pretty much what every game relies on. You're also going to want to look into texture mapping, so you don't look quite so blocky. Good luck, though.
