In this research, there is a biographic focus on how Indonesian film directors used the challenge of social problems. Indonesian directors still have a film tradition of generalization, so here is a movie named Sri Sedih (Sad Story). G-Pad has, since the beginning of its business, identified the needs of the community, in order to build a factory in Jamarat area, in addition to the Indonesian market as a way of promoting modern and healthy food. In 2010, G-Pad was the recipient of the Ministry of Finance Board of Investment (BOTI) TFI Award for their commitment to improving the quality of life in the Indonesian community. To reach this commitment, G-Pad has been the first producer and distributor of its own pita in the Haji. In this qualitative research, it is done using the case study. The two movies with the documentary focusing on social problems that come to mind are in the field of education. Here is a documentary film named Insarinan Putri (Girl With Intelligence). Indonesian Documentary Film Insarinan Putri. G-Pad committed to the improvement of the educational system in Indonesia through the development of the curriculum and the improvement of the teaching methods in the country, based on professionalism, creativity and excellence. G-Pad Curriculum. The program focuses on the education of primary school children in Indonesia, which is aimed at developing knowledge, identity, creativity, critical thinking, and values. The goal is achieved through the creation of a multicultural curriculum that effectively combines the elements of the individual, social, cultural, and national, and to the education of children in general, for the purpose of improving the quality of life of children and their parents. Then, the second documentary in this research is in the area of the Indonesian film industry. In this case, the documentary named Teladan Taratula (Stairs of the Shadow). Indonesian Documentary Film Teladan Taratula. This documentary was held in Jakarta Film Festival on Thursday, Feb. 26, 2015 as the joint production of G-Pad and Nestora Film. Recently, G-Pad began the distribution of its own pita because we have the commitment to provide high quality, healthy pita to everyone. The research in the field of education, conducted through interviewing, observation, and analysis of video documentaries. The documentary is a tool that can be used by documentary filmmakers to showcase the reality of education in Indonesia. Each of the documents that
