Features Key:

- Continued work and polish of UI layout and scene transitions
- Designed by Vaark of the Vaark Studios. He's been at it even before I do, putting me on a firehose of feedback and ideas. It's awesome that I have a guy like him on board.
- Each champion will have their own 'stances' during combat. Zen master holds her sword in two hands, near-invincible! Meditate expert keeps a soothing pose with her hands in lap. The new and improved combat system is pretty sweet, as it gives more options than each class has previously had.
- The helmet and boot of Penelope, shimmed with pre-painted, on-grade bronze. They're painted in-house and their material is thick enough to make sure a key is as strong as a key could be. Lovely!
- Pick up VArk on our social channels or visit the Vaark Studios website. We're also actively on Facebook, so make sure to Like that page and follow the Vaark Studios for good content. Meanwhile, since I'm a sucker for people asking and all, I'll be adding in info on where to buy the skin and the feat for those interested in buying the skin and feats.

created great personalities such as music composers and musicians like Sergio Santeramo, Maestro Luciano Altimani, Francesco Berta, Salvatore Mazzeo, Daniela Brahm-Reichle, Massimo Sforza, Chris Bächinger, Daniele Cominu, Doc Föckan and many others. "Lucius" wants to be part of a big family: that of the treasure of the common Italian language. "Lucius" is dedicated to the Italian people without which the great spirit of the composer could not be displayed. My earliest memories of film dates from the 1940s. Actually, I remember almost nothing and I was buried in my classical music before my adolescence. Nevertheless, thanks to my passion for this art, I took up studying film when I was 13 and watched many films as a young teenager: Humphrey Bogart in "Casablanca", World War II cinema, the Spanish, German and Hungarian and Italian cinema. Among these highlights, there was a film that made me aware of a prestigious Italian talent at that time: Bruno Corbucci's "The Big Gundown", which I saw at Rome's "United" multiplex in 1972.
