After the events of Serenity, the Seven-Sun Civil War, the United Planet Project and the Oceanic, a new Zero-Point Technology was invented, granting mankind a new era of freedom. However, the ZPD soon found another use for the technology - not by measuring time and energy, but by creating "Virtual Reality". The ZPD created devices and devices that gave out a simulator in the form of virtual reality. The user would then believe that they were in a new world created by the ZPD, or a world created by the user themselves, just by playing the game. The ZPD also created Reality Games. Reality Games are based on pre-existing historical period's events. They ran the gamut from a nice relaxing Virtual Travel experience to Virtual Space Journey to Virtual Reality War where players would battle each other in a virtual battlefield and there were even more unknown VR Games. However, as the ZPD started to create their own Reality Games, much like the development of real life, such as the world of an evolved human being, the result was a number of Reality Games that were actually Reality Thefts - they stole the content created by other Reality Game creators, and mass marketed their twisted Reality Games as their own. The Reality Games were stolen under the guise of being Real and made by the creator himself, or a new version of the reality games created originally by the creator. Ten years have passed. Now is the time for Leona to become the new ZPD. Our Tasks: # Recognize the Reality Games that are stealing other Reality Games # Create new Reality Games to balance those stolen Reality Games # Decide whether to take a certain Reality Game back from the ZPD /-----\ |Leona's Task
|-----/ The Gaming Universe had been based in the Real World for many decades. It was created by the Planetcraft Project, and was very similar to the real world based on facts and knowledge. The people of the Planetcraft Universe, were called Ploofs, and they had to constantly keep their minds active by producing information and facts to keep the People's world in check. In addition, the Planetcraft Universe relied heavily on a system of Laws, known as Plof's Laws, to keep that "reality". The Ploofs of the Planetcraft Universe enjoyed a kind of "freedom", however they had to contend with the inevitable

Mechanics: The condition of the land allows people to manifest their dreams. Horrors can be created by a single mistake of the Land Cycle. Through the land cycle, monsters are created through the folly of people. Also, because the land does not accept imperfectness, people and monsters will be born. Without the support of a land cycle, people will become mortal and become slaves to the condition of the land.

Playable characters: There are 8 playable characters that can be unlocked in the campaign mode. They are not unlocked until the conditions of the land cycle change.

Story Mode: There are 3 campaigns and the campaign can be replayed. The story revolves around the creation of monsters and how people can cope with the demands of the land. The story is about four young men who were born as monsters, being created on a land that has been under constant mistreatment. The monsters did not have any connection to the humanity before their creation. If they had, their creation would have been impossible. After the four men become humans, they learn of the land's misdoings and what monsters have been created due to it.

The stories are divided into three chapters and are composed of story arc (Duel) and scenario (battle) chapters. The story arc chapters mainly revolve around how a person will take revenge for the torment of the land. The scenario chapters are more like typical RPG chapters, where you must explore the various areas and kill the enemies before moving on.

Game Features: Story Arc Chapters (Brought to you by Reiko and Kiran) In addition to the common scenario, there are two additional story arc chapters: Heartful of Fire chapter and Broken Trail chapter. Encounter duelists at Duelist Alliance. Featuring Character Duels (Summoner) and Story Duelist. We are introducing a new feature to the story mode called level up of characters. Each time you defeat a monster, the characters will level up. This allows you to use new cards as well as new skills in the next chapter. Create your dream decks. Each chapter has pre-constructed deck layouts that can be edited. The ability to create your own deck for each chapter will be available in the future. 4K Textures + More Details Pre-rendered textures can be made for each item in the deck. ## What's new in RPG Maker VX Ace - Cursed Kingdoms Music Pack:

RPG Maker VX Ace - Cursed Kingdoms Music Pack $1.85 By the 10-16th centuries, Rumelian culture and technology had become quite advanced. The country was a rising power among the Slavic nations, and its people enjoyed many time-honored traditions. Theocratic regimes became increasingly despotic. With the crumbling of the Western Roman Empire in the late 5th century, this mighty nation became a vassal state to the Huns, Germanic tribes, and Ostrogoths. By the 9th century, however, the once-dominant Rumelian people began a long decline into a tribal, pagan civilization. The 10th century saw the Rumelian people in a sharp decline. Civil disorders were rampant, and disease and famine smacked the country. The expansion of the Byzantine Empire had little influence on the lands in the West and South of the Rumelian nation, except to inspire fear. Because of the disorganization, social chaos, and disintegration, people were easy prey for the Norse marauders, who sought to unite the Slavic tribes and take possession of the vast Rumelian lands. As the population relied on agriculture, the people were susceptible to plagues and famine. This was the period where the seeds of Chaos began to evolve. The Nordic people took advantage of the chaos and began their aggressive expansion of the areas now known as the Danelaw. Christianity, however, was suppressed until the reign of one of the most influential leaders of the time. Drast, a bulwark to Rumelian stability, was a charismatic leader who united the people of the south under his banner. He was a great religion leader and used divine power to defeat the Allalu, a faction of demon worshippers. Drast's plan backfired when he became a tyrant who did not pay his taxes or respect civilian law. Rumelian nobility, priests, and downtrodden people all rose up against this tyrant. Drast, however, used the Norsemen for his propaganda that he was a traitor and was trying to restore the power of the Huns. He used
