===== Warning! This game is not suitable for children, contains aggressive scenarios and brutal war!Aired-UpGame- World War II1. Field of the Invention This invention relates to laser devices, and more particularly, to laser devices which include a refractive element and a transparent window element. 2. Description of the Related Art Laser transmission devices and systems are known. Such systems include laser devices that are used to transmit or generate optical energy. Such devices may be used in many areas including laser manufacturing, laser recording, semiconductor manufacturing, medical uses, and others. In many laser transmission systems, there may be a need to transmit or direct laser energy between a transmission site and a reception site. For example, in semiconductor manufacturing, a laser transmission device may be used to transfer laser energy from a laser transmission source to a semiconductor wafer. To be able to accurately direct the laser energy from the laser transmission source to the semiconductor wafer, there may be a need for a very narrow, well-defined transmission window in the laser transmission device. Thus, it would be beneficial to provide a laser transmission device that includes a laser transmission window having a very narrow dimension to enable the laser transmission device to precisely direct laser energy to a wafer or other target. It would also be beneficial to provide a laser transmission device that includes a laser transmission window that provides a predetermined optical thickness to the laser transmission window for the transmission of desired optical energy levels. It would further be beneficial to provide a laser transmission device that includes a laser transmission window that has a circular shape for allowing an optical beam to pass therethrough, and that has a uniform thickness. Recently, I was listening to a podcast that talked about managing culture in your workplace. In my experience, some of the companies that make a great culture also have great structure. Just like some of the people in my family know how to make a great Italian meal, but are terrible when it comes to cleaning and throwing things away. What is the recipe for a culture of fun and creating that culture in an environment where people have to work and
