A previously developed model was extended to include noninertial terms. This allows the calculation of the lateral components of the radiation force applied to a soft tissue layer. The model is based on the analysis of the radiometric properties of ultrasound at the human skin, and considers an interface between the skin and an underlying soft tissue layer. The model includes both tissue reflection and absorption. The material properties of the soft tissue are assumed to be independent of the pressure level. The model exhibits frequency shifts which are in good agreement with experimental results, i.e., characteristic of Rayleigh waves. Significant reflections can occur from the underlying soft tissue, which emphasizes the importance of a precise model of the ultrasound propagation in this medium. In particular, several cases of severe tissue shift are found when these reflections are included. In the past she has dealt with it by taking to social media and posting billboards with her name. In the third time she cheated, she even changed her name from Ciara to "Ciara-L". Her problem with the dude was caused by the fact that he had a baby with another woman. He went to her house and they talked and eventually he realized that Ciara is a great person, but she is kind of clingy. Also, she has a bad temper and he doesn't want to deal with the drama. However, he is still very much in love with the singer, but he doesn't think of her as a mother. Besides, she has a baby and he doesn't want to mess with something so permanent. In fact, he reached out to Ciara's close friends to encourage her to trust him and realize that he really loves her. In the end, he will be the one who will take care of her.
